

A Message from Sarah Drew

This journey, the Earth Treasure Vase Pilgrimage to Delphi, is dear to my heart, a focal point of deep dreaming and realization, a prayer for global healing activated and revealed. Cynthia Jurs has been a longtime friend, ally, and the Earth Treasure Vase Practice, a remembrance and a catalyst for deep inspiration that has deepened over the years. I am honored to be on the journey with Cynthia Jurs, Nikole Rosaria, and all of you who will say “yes” to this sacred pilgrimage to Delphi, both in person and in the temple of our collective prayers for the well-being of our Mother Earth and the nourishment of all sentient life.

This is a ceremonial evocation and activation that is born of generational dreamings; an answered prayer to the longings of our ancestral soul that reawakens and gives roots to a vibrant, fertile future for Mother Gaia and all sentient life.

In my novel GAIA CODEX, there is a central scene when the protagonist, Lila Sophia, meets with the Pythia, the Oracle at Delphi, in a rite of renewal. Today to spark our remembering of the Oracle in each of our inner temples, She who is here in dedication to our Mother Earth, I offer this excerpt from the Gaia Codex:

I look forward to joining each of you, hopefully in person on this seminal pilgrimage, if not then in the holy temple of our shared prayers for the well-being of our Mother Earth now and through time.
